

Ludham Parish News – March 2020

A Bishop told this story in church recently

An examiner posed the problem "show how it is possible to determine the height of a tall building with the aid of a barometer". The student provided the answer: "Take the barometer to the top of the building. Attach a long rope to it, lower the barometer to the street, then bring it up, measuring the length of the rope. The length of the rope is the height of the building."

The examiner was confident that there was one, and only one, correct answer which is by calculating the difference in pressure at the top and bottom of the building. He gave the student another chance. However, contrary to the examiner's expectations, the student responded with a series of completely different answers including; dropping the barometer from the top of the building and timing its fall with a stopwatch; trading the barometer to the building's caretaker in return for the information wanted; creating a pendulum as high as the building and measuring its period; and comparing the length of the shadows of the building and the barometer.

Eventually the student admitted that he knew the expected "correct" answer, but said he was fed up with professors trying to "teach him how to think ..."

The question was asked at the University of Copenhagen and the Physics student was Niels Bohr. Niels was a Danish physicist who made foundational contributions to understanding atomic structure and quantum theory, for which he received the Nobel Prize for Physics in 1922.

St Paul urges us in the book of Romans "Do not conform to the pattern of this world, but be transformed by the renewing of your mind. Then you will be able to test and approve what God's will is ..." JB Phillips' translation reads "Don't let the world around you squeeze you into its own mould".

"Official Secrets"

(15) Biography/Drama/Romance (112 minutes)

A morality tale for the 21st century, Official Secrets tells the true story of British Intelligence whistleblower Katharine Gun who, during the immediate run-up to the 2003 Iraq invasion, leaked a top secret NSA memo exposing a joint US-UK illegal spying operation against members of the UN Security Council. The memo proposed blackmailing smaller, undecided member states into voting for war. At great personal and professional risk, journalist Martin Bright published the leaked document in The Observer newspaper in London, and the story made headlines around the world. The legal battles exposed the highest levels of government in both London and Washington...

Celebrating 1000 Years Of St Benet's Abbey, 2019

As many of you will recall, 2019 was a very special year for St Benet's Abbey. Several events took place to celebrate one thousand years since the founding of the abbey. The Friends have a valued role in maintaining and promoting St Benet's Abbey as a special place. The committee plays an important role and we need your help. We are looking for a publicity and events champion to join the friendly committee. Could this be you? For further information and a chat about the role please contact Tina Clinch 01692 536890

FAMILY HISTORY RESEARCH Recently I was asked to find out the history of a farmhouse near Hereford. The owners were keen to find out who lived there during WW2. I was able to find the occupants and what type of farming they did. Other people in the village remembered them. There were some lovely old maps online too and photos from when it was empty in tumbled down state with homeless people living there. I never know what I will be asked next! If you would like me to research your family in exchange for a donation to St. Catherine's Church, please email me at: christina.pope@talk21.com or call 01692 678079.
